

Dear NABI Exhibitors & Advertisers:

The 6th Annual Native American Basketball Invitational presented by Nike & University of Phoenix will be held July 20-26, 2008 in Phoenix, AZ. This exciting Rezbball tournament will showcase 64 All-Native Basketball teams (32 boys and 32 girls teams), comprised of high school athletes, from across North America.

To date the NABI has created over 50 athletic scholarship opportunities provided by colleges and universities throughout the country as well as, awarded over thirty thousand in financial aid to NABI participating athletes through the NABI Foundation.

In addition, NABI became the first all Native American tournament to become NCAA certified in 2007, which will continue to bring more exposure to our talented athletes!

The Native American Basketball Invitational Tournament will begin on Sunday, July 20th with all NABI teams checking in and exploring the NABI College and Career Fair. The games will conclude with the Final Four & Championship Games on Saturday July 26th at US Airways Center, home of the Phoenix Suns and Phoenix Mercury. We are extending an invitation to your educational Institution/organization to participate in this event. Well over 1200 talented Native American high school athletes and scholars will be attending NABI 2008. Many will be accompanied by family and friends.

Opportunities at the NABI College & Career Fair

In addition to the basketball tournament, NABI would like to aid students in fulfilling their educational pursuits. Students will have an opportunity to interact with college and university representatives from a wide range of schools to discuss admissions, financial aid, scholarships, and other college requirements. For schools or businesses interested in recruiting Native American students or employees, this is your opportunity to reach them in one location. Well over 1200 students representing Tribes from throughout the country will be participating in NABI 2008.
